LT.-COL. ACKERMAN HAD BRILLIANT ARMY CAREER

A prominent citizen of Peterborough, Lt.-Col. Charles H. Ackerman, died in hospital at Picton, on Sunday, March 18th, 1962, following an illness of about a year. Mr. Ackerman had a brilliant army career beginning when he enlisted in the First World War. He also took an active part in civic work in Peterborough, serving on the council for a time and as a director in the Chamber of Commerce.

He was interested in mining and was an associate in the Waite-Ackerman Copper Mine. He did considerable exploratory work at an ore outcropping about four miles east of Marmora which was known as the Ackerman Mine but the tests did not show a sufficient ore body to develop a mine.

Funeral was held in St. John's Anglican Church, Peterborough on Wednesday, March 21st. Interment Little Lake cemetery.

Surviving are four children, Mrs. J. A. Otterway (Nancy) of Guildford, England; Joan of Peterborough; Arthur of Oakville, and Lieut. Commander Benjamin Ackerman of Victoria, B.A.; a brother, William C. Ackerman, Peterborough.

His wife, the former Hilda Bernice Hepburn, predeceased him.

THE ACKERMAN FAMILY Historical

According to "Indicateur Nobiliaire de Belgique, de France, de Hollande (Index of the nobility of Belgium, France and Holland). The Ackerman Family were of the nobility.

According to a Dutch dictionary published in Amsterdam in 1754 by Jacob Fox Book, the name Ackerman is derived from two words:
 Akker a field, tilled ground
 Akkerman a husbandman
 In the English language we have the same word "acre" meaning a tilled portion of land. We therefore have Ackerman, a farmer.

The records in Holland and the early records in this country, have the name spelled Akkerman. The first "k" became anglicized into a "c". The name with two "m"s is from Germany. On some of the posters of soldiers of the Revolution, the name was spelled phonetically Ackerman. This was from the Dutch pronunciation of the name. This name is not a patronymic name, but from earliest times and all countries it has been the same.

The history of the family is lost back into the ages long past. Some claim the family of Swedish origin in the eleventh century. There is a port on the Black Sea named Akkerman.

The records in Holland disclose that about 1560 some of the family moved from Holland into the German Palatinate, and some of them later returned to Holland. This was caused by wars then going on. There is a German Genealogy of the Ackerman Family. (Genealogisches handbuch Familien, in New York Public Library). It begins by saying the Ackermans were found about 1560 at various places. The times in Europe was of the Eighty Years War, and the Thirty Years War. They were extremely troubled times and families were forced to flee the country for their safety.

Our branch seems to stem from a Hendrick Akkerman of Ghent, who had come from the Northern Netherlands. He was born in the year 1260. He was of a liberty loving group, who defied (1306) the Hereditary Count of Flanders, Robert, in his excessive taxes, and resulted in the seizure of their property and banishment. In 1370 Frans Akkerman, a grandson of Hendrick Akkerman was born, and grew up with the same liberty loving spirit. After 1370 a revolt was engendered against the Flemish Pretender and drove him out. Frans Akkerman knowing the Pretender would be back; requested in the name of the Flemish people of Richard II of England, military assistance. The troops were landed 1384 at Dunkirk, and in that locality they defeated the combined troops of the Flemish Pretender and the King of France. After this battle Richard II recalled his troops, and Frans Akkerman's forces not being of sufficient strength to meet the increased forces sent against him disbanded. An anecdote is told of Frans Akkerman after his victory: two ladies of the court said they "expected this radical to be unshaven churl."

Son Johannes(A35) died Oct. 27, 1690. Buried Oct. 29, 1690 per Bergen Church record.

Daughter Anna Maria(A37) died Jan. 22, 1696 and buried Jan. 24, 1696 per Bergen Church record.

The first two children were born in New York, and the rest at Bergen, N.J.

Abraham Ackerman(A2) was received into the Dutch Reformed Church at Hackensack, N.J. on Oct. 3, 1696. His wife Aeltie Van Laer on Jan. 3, 1697. Among the founders of this Church were the two brothers of Abraham- David and Lawrence and their wives. This Church is also known as the Church on the Green. On Sep. 21, 1683 Aeltje Akkerman joined the Dutch Reformed Church of Flatbush, Brooklyn, N.Y.

From the deed dated March 10, 1689 from John Berry to Lawrence Ackerman(L2), brother of Abraham Ackerman(A2), we learn that Abraham owned a tract south of that conveyed to Lawrence, reaching from the Hackensack River to the Saddle River. The location of which now comprises the whole of what is now known as also Jan Verbeek (now Bush) and Albert Zabriskie, a near relative of the Polish King. On the log of "The Fox" the Akkermans are listed as follows:

Akkerman, David, from Bakery of Bosch, wife and six children, ages 20, 18, 16, 12, 8, 6.

The family is known to have lived at first on Marketfield Street, a street just below Beaver Street in New York City. Formerly the street went through to Bowling Green, but now the Produce Exchange building stands across the Bowling Green end, on a street list made up for taxes for lodging Dutch soldiers on the inhabitants, dated April 19, 1665, the residence of Jacobus Akkerman is shown as the third house from the Broad Street (then a canal) end of Marketfield Street. The Hon. Petrus Stuyvesant's residence is shown on the Bowling Green end.

There is no record of David Akkerman, the father at New Amsterdam. If he had died at sea his death should have been entered on the ship's log. However that may be, on May 10, 1663, Jacob, his wife, was summoned to appear before the "Orphans Masters" to render an accounting of the estate of her late husband. She states that she has only a few household goods of which she occasionally has to sell some in order to procure food for her children. On February 21, 1665 we find her keeping a little store in the Marketfield Street, at which she sold butter, beer, wine and pelts. In 1668 the family residence was in New Harlem. The two girls were undoubtedly married before this (1664-1668).

In speaking of Holland it is to be remembered that the low countries were known in early times as the United Netherlands. It was not until 1831 that Belgium became a separate country from Holland.

but he appears to be a gentleman. Indeed he has better manners and shows more humility than the best of our knighthood." From 1385 Frans Akkerman resumed his peaceful occupation of Ghent. In 1387 he was assassinated. Acknowledging Frans Akkerman as one of the chief authors of Dutch liberty, even his murderer paid him tribute. A historian says Frans Akkerman- He stood above all partisanship, great as he was as a merchant, an industrial, a diplomat and soldier; above all he was of a high and spotless character.

The Northern Netherlands, or Dutch Republic, was the natural place for free loving peoples to come to. The records show the movements of the Akkermans in Holland. Their Church records appear in the Protestant Dutch Reformed Churches. After the Treaty of Westphalia (1648), which ended both the Eighty and Thirty Years Wars, the persecution of the Protestants became such that many of them left Holland for America.

From Bass-Jones Chart 98:

Laurens Akkerman and Hester de Foyster were married before 1580 at Worms. Their son John Laurens Akkerman married Aug. 24, 1597 at Frankendall to Anneken Adriense. Their son David Akkerman married Lysebeth de Villiers, daughter of Louis de Villiers and Adrianna Schuyler.

On the Church records of the Reformed Church of Den Bosch, is recorded:

Baptized:	Parents	Witnesses
1642. July 31 Anneken	David Akkerman Lysebeth Villiers	Annaken Adriense and Adriaentje Schuyler
1645 Mar. 21 Johannes	David Akkerman Lysebeth de Villiers	Pieter Akkerman and Jonneken Segers

From these Church records it is found that Anna Schuyler and Louis de Villiers were the parents of David's wife Lysebeth de Villiers, and the child Anneken was named after the maternal grandmother. Johannes, being the first son was named after Johannes Akkerman, and his wife was Anneken Adriense, parents of David Akkerman. The grand parents of David Akkerman was Laurens Akkerman and Hester. See paragraph next above.

No further record of the son Johannes has been found. He is presumed to have died prior to the emigration to America. The next son (oldest to come to America) was named David after the father. The second daughter after the mother Elisabeth, born in 1644.

The family came to America on the sailing ship "De Vos" or "The Fox", Captain Jacobson Ikey. They left Amsterdam the end of May 1662. They crossed to England and started the ocean voyage the middle of June. They arrived off Sandy Hook on August 31st, and disembarked Foot of Wall Street at New Amsterdam on September 2, 1662. The log of this trip is at Albany, N.Y. Among the other passengers was Nick Storm and family. Friends of the Akkermans;

Somewhere I have seen the statement that there were two other children that died in infancy. The gaps in the dates above would indicate the possibility of this.

David Ackerman and family being farmers, and had to sell their produce, were after the Treaty of Westphalia, without a market as the Catholics refused to deal with the Protestants. Living in North Holland, the outposts on the frontiers of the Netherlands, this was especially so. So this was the cause of the Ackermans and their neighbors leaving for New Amsterdam. David Ackerman had a farm in Berlicum to which he had come in the Spring of 1647. David had at least two brothers: Pieter and Hendrick. This is shown when the mother and the three brothers moved to Berlicum about this time.

Soon after the arrival of the Ackermans, the widow Lybeth was housekeeper (1663) for Anthony Dorsken, an official of the West India Company, and continued to May 1665, when she came into Court to compel him to pay her back wages. It is thought that she died in 1679, and then probably living in New Harlem where the family had moved in 1665.

Valentine's History of New York, published in 1853, says "Jonas Bartelstzen, a store keeper, occupied premises on the East side of Whitehall Street, between Stone and Marketfield Street Streets in 1665, and that Lybeth Ackerman occupied a small house adjoining that of Mr. Bartelstzen's"

David Ackerman(A31) joined the Reformed Church at Hackensack, N.J. on Apr. 6, 1706.

The will of David Ackerman(A31) is dated May 30, 1760, proved June 25, 1760. Probated Sep. 30, 1761. Letters of Administration were granted to Jacobus A. Van Voorhees(his son-in-law), his son David the other executor having died about the time of the death of his father in 1760. In this will he names his eldest son Abraham to have his Bible(ithis Bible is at Perth Amboy, N.J. but the record is missing) he also names his sons Garret, David and Lawrence, and daughters Jannetje (wife of Jacobus Van Voorhees) and Aeltje (wife of Hermanus Van Blarcom).

Dec. 1, 1739. At council of the Province of New Jersey under his magentle our dread sovereign King George held at Perth Amboy by Gov. Lewis Morris, David A Ackerman of Bergen, member of the Assembly, was appointed and received his Commission as Justice of the (Quarum) Peace, for all Bergen Co. N.J.

In 1734 the proprietors of East Jersey acquired land at Perth Amboy (Rampack Tract). In some way David Ackerman(A31) had obtained from them a grant of land and he in 1761, Feb. 12, sold a mill right of about one acre to Jacobus Van Buskirk.

DESCENDANTS of DAVID ACKERMAN

THE FAMILY IN EUROPE

We believe that our family name originated late in the tenth century. The earliest verified date is of Hendrick Akkerman born in Ghent in 1260. Most of the family probably lived in Flanders but many of the early records have been destroyed in the various wars, as this area has always been a battleground, even twice in our generation.

Frans Ackerman, a grandson of Hendrick raised an army and led a revolt against the oppression of the Count of Flanders in 1370. Although he won several battles defeating the troops of the King of France, eventually in 1385, due to the failure of promised English assistance, the war was lost. Altho the fight for democracy did not succeed, better conditions were gained.

When the Spanish invaded the Lowlands in 1568 many of the Ackermans fled to the Palatine section of Germany. In 1618 the Thirty Years War started in Germany and this forced another move, to Northern Netherlands. By 1630 the Spanish had been cleaned out of South-Eastern Netherlands and the Ackermans moved back to this locality. The Eighty Years War with Spain ended in 1648 but strong religious feelings continued in this area.

David Ackerman was born about 1614, and was married in 1641 to Lysbet ~~de~~ Belliers. They were living at Berlicum, North Brabant, in the southern part of the Dutch Republic when they decided to emigrate to America.

They left Amsterdam about September 2nd, 1662 on the ship VOS. Probably some time was spent in an English port and then about Sept. 30th the VOS proceeded to the New Netherlands. After a stormy voyage they arrived at New Amsterdam on November 14, 1662.

It is believed that David was sick when he arrived. He died sometime between November 1662 and March 1663, leaving the widow Lysbet and six children -

D.A.D. NEWSLETTER

DAVID ACKERMAN DESCENDANTS-1662

Vol. 6 No. 1

January 1968

SIXTH ANNUAL REUNION

The "Old Bergen" Church in Jersey City, N. J. was the scene of the 6th Annual Reunion and Business Meeting of "DAVID ACKERMAN DESCENDANTS"-1662, on October 21, 1967. Once again an enthusiastic group of Ackerman cousins enjoyed the opportunity to meet together, this time in the second oldest Dutch Reformed Church in the United States, with the Pastor, Dr. John I. Soeter, serving as our gracious host.

For the first time, a D.A.D. Hospitality Committee composed of Elizabeth Baum (Mrs. LeRoy G.) and Robert and Alma Ackerman was in charge of refreshments in the morning and dessert and coffee following the picnic luncheon.

The Annual Reports of the Committees and the President's Report showed that D.A.D. has made much progress during 1966-67, particularly in the area of internal organization. "With the adoption of new By-Laws and D.A.D.'s incorporation as a non-profit organization under the revised statutes of the State of New Jersey, our association is ready to move ahead more rapidly to achieve its important goals." So said our President.

William F. Ackerman, Chairman of the Genealogy Committee reported that his Committee Members are working diligently. Their objective is that of eventually publishing a complete Ackerman Genealogy.

The broader publicity being released in connection with our Annual Reunion is resulting in many responses from individuals all over the country who think they may be direct descendants of David of 1662. This is helping to enroll new members and the material the letters contain is most helpful to the Genealogical Records Committee - now called the Genealogy Committee, in accordance with the new By-Laws. A list of new members appears later in this issue.

OFFICERS ELECTED

At the close of the business meeting, Dr. Arthur F. Ackerman, Chairman of the Nominating Committee, presented the following slate of officers:-

Vice President	Mr. Samuel H. Ackerman
Corresponding Secretary	Mrs. Robert J. Lynn
Treasurer	Mr. David A. Ackerman
Assistant Treasurer	Miss Anna M. Ackerman

These officers were unanimously elected and duly installed by the Rev. William S. Ackerman, our President, acting in his dual role as Chaplain.

IN MEMORIAM

A memorial prayer was offered by our Chaplain, the Rev. William S. Ackerman, in memory of Mrs. David A. Ackerman, Sr. (Lottie M.) of Basking Ridge, N. J. who passed away during the past year.

AFTERNOON PROGRAM

Mrs. Rosa A. Livingston as Chairman of both the Reunion Committee and Ancestral Homes Committee introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mr. Loring McMillen, who has served D.A.D. so well in conducting the research which has established, beyond doubt, the history of the Von Steuben House as an Ackerman homestead. Mr. McMillen illustrated his talk with slides and also exhibited blueprints and drawings which helped to explain the evolution of this famous structure. His interesting and enlightening presentation served as a most appropriate prelude to the Dedication on the following day, at River Edge, N. J.

THE ACKERMAN-ZABRISKIE-VON STEUBEN HOUSETHE DEDICATION CEREMONY

Sunday, October 22, 1967, was indeed a Red Letter Day for D.A.D.! In a brief State-sponsored ceremony, New Jersey's most frequently visited Historic Site, known for almost forty years as "The Steuben House", was officially renamed, "The Ackerman-Zabriskie-Von Steuben House". The event climaxed research and negotiations carried on by our Association steadily for more than eighteen months.

As D.A.D. members know, the dedication took place during the fifth Anniversary Reunion week-end, and as a result, a number of visiting out-of-state Ackermans attended as did many of their local cousins and a generous sprinkling of Zabriskies and Steuben Society members. Also present were a large group of interested area residents and a total of twenty-three representatives of leading local and State historical organizations, which had been cordially invited to send delegates to the ceremony.

The day was sunny and bright and a brisk autumn breeze stirred American and State flags suspended from the two central posts of the narrow veranda - on which the speakers were seated, either side of the open front door.

The chairs for the audience had been placed on the leaf-strewn hard surface of the dead-end New Bridge Road, just beyond the property's split rail fence and facing the little front yard and the porch. Warmed by the slanting rays of late October sunlight, the large group listened attentively to the program which had been planned by Rosa A. Livingston, Chairman of the D.A.D. Ackerman Ancestral Homes Committee and Arthur F. Ackerman, a past president of D.A.D. and his wife Barbara, who were in charge of coordinating contacts with the State and other interested groups, in securing recognition of Ackerman connections with the house as well as the land. T. Robert Kammer, President of the Bergen County Historical Society, George O. Zabriskie and the head of the Steuben Society cooperated in the planning which was delegated to D.A.D. by Jack E. Boucher, Supervisor, Historic Sites Section, New Jersey Department of Conservation and Economic Development - which owns State Historic Sites.

Mr. Kammer served as Master of Ceremonies and the flag salute was led by the Bergen County "Militia Regiment" which added a delightful touch of color and action to the ceremony. Dressed in the homespun shirt and leather breeches of Revolutionary foot soldier, the trio marched and handled their antique muskets with amazing precision. They appeared again at the end of the program to demonstrate the complicated musket-firing drill routine which General Von Steuben, Washington's drill-master, taught to the untrained Colonial troops.

Wayne Daniels, leader of the "regiment" consisting of three men, explained that his fighting group has shrunk in numbers because they are "all that is left"!

The Rev. William S. Ackerman, President of D.A.D., delivered the invocation. This was followed by brief remarks by State Assemblyman Skevin and Freeholder Mazur. The latter explained his recent proposal that the county construct a new building, to be known as History House, on property adjoining the Historic Site.

Rosa Livingston introduced Arthur Ackerman, a direct descendant of David the builder of the house, who delivered her statement describing the original "House that David Built" as a three room hipped roof structure, comprising the present kitchen, hall and the adjoining half of the present living room or parlor - an elaborate home in those pioneer days. Pierre Zabriskie spoke for his family and representatives of the Polish American Society and the Steuben Society touched on the contributions made by each of these organization to the history of the old house.

Highlighting the dedication, Mr. Boucher brought greetings from the State and unveiled an impressive new bronze marker bearing the title "Ackerman-Zabriskie-Von Steuben House". A copy of the complete wording appears in this issue of the NEWSLETTER.

The marker will be placed in a prominent position in the small entrance hall, with a light focused upon it to encourage reading by visitors.

Mr. Boucher then announced that the State will work closely with the Bergen County Historical Society in restoring the house as an 18th century home. A plea was made by Mr. Kammer for donations or loans of antique furniture and artifacts of the Dutch Colonial and Revolutionary periods - to complete the furnishing of the house, which has been recently cleaned and rearranged by Mr. Boucher's staff and the Society.

Following a final appearance of the "Militia Regiment" the program concluded with the benediction by Rev. Ackerman. Refreshments were then served by the women members of the D.A.D. Board, in the parlor of the charming Dutch Colonial homestead which has now officially become an Ackerman Ancestral Home.

Publicity Committee

EXCERPTS FROM

THE D.A.D. STATEMENT IN DEDICATION PROGRAM

Compiled by Rosa A. Livingston, Chairman,
History and Archives Committee

Today we are gathered at this historic place to witness a truly significant event in the history of Bergen County and New Jersey.

Yesterday, at the Reunion of D.A.D., held at "Old Bergen" Church in Jersey City, it was reported that documented facts proving conclusively that David Ackerman was the original builder of this homestead, had been accepted by the Historic Sites Section of the State Department of Conservation and Economic Development.

David, born in Berlicum, Holland, in 1653 was about nine years old when he landed in Nieu Amsterdam with his father, his mother (Lysbeth de Villiers) and his brothers and sisters. In 1680 he married Hillegont Ver Planck in New York and after they crossed the Hudson and established their home they became organizers of the "Church on the Green" in Hackensack.

For many years tradition named Jan Zabriskie as the first builder of this house even though some historians have known that the house predated Zabriskie ownership.

When these facts were brought to the attention of the D.A.D. Board, the Ackerman Ancestral Homes Committee was asked to attempt to prove this claim, in accordance with our Association's aims and purposes. It was finally documented after almost two years of intensive research.

According to the nationally recognized historical architect Loring McMillen, D.A.D. consultant, the original part of the house, a hipped roof structure, was built by David soon after he purchased the land in 1695. It had a kitchen, central hall and parlor. When David's son Johannes inherited the property, he added another room to the north end of the parlor - extending the house to its present length.

Sometime before Johannes' son Nicholas sold the house to Jan Zabriskie (in 1750) three of the four small rooms on the first floor in the rear were added and the stairway and the attic bedroom were completed.

Now let us visualize through our imagination David's life and times. The comfortable homestead, surrounded by fertile fields, had, no doubt, an herb garden and kitchen garden; while on the banks of the wide and swift-flowing Hackensack River stood the Ackerman tide-water mills. Here David and his sons led busy lives grinding grain brought by their neighbors by oxcart or horseback or by water in Dutch sloops or yawls, from their scattered farms down stream and from as far upstream as present-day River Edge. Perhaps, too, occasionally Indians from the Hackensack tribe of the Leni Lenape stopped to trade with their Dutch neighbors.

Much has happened since those early days, but the names of Ackerman and Zabriskie, first linked as fellow passengers on the ship "Vos" which arrived from Holland in 1662, then by inter-marriage through succeeding years, will continue now to be permanently linked together and with that of General Von Steuben - to honor one of New Jersey's most famous Historic Sites.

"THE ACKERMAN - ZABRISKIE - VON STEUBEN HOUSE"The Text of the New Marker

"Original part built by David Ackerman "Senior" of Hackensack following his purchase of 420 acres here in 1695. Occupied until 1745 by three generations of Ackermans - David; his son Johannes, who inherited the property before 1714, expanding the house to its present length; and by Nicholas, grandson of the builder. All farmed and operated tide water mills on this side.

Purchased in 1745 by John Zabriskie from Nicholas Ackerman and the estate of Johannes Ackerman. Enlarged, and used as home and mercantile establishment by three generations of Zabriskies.

Confiscated by the State of New Jersey in 1784 from John Zabriskie, loyalist, son of John the first Zabriskie owner. Presented as a gift to General Von Steuben in 1786 by Act of New Jersey State Legislature, in appreciation of services during the Revolutionary War.

Sold in 1788 by Von Steuben, who never occupied the property, to a third John Zabriskie, son of the loyalist, and grandson of the first Zabriskie owner. Occupied by him as home and business establishment until his death in 1793.

Purchased in 1815 by a relative, Andrew Zabriskie. Occupied by him and his descendants until 1909.

Now an Historic Site of the State of New Jersey, acquired in 1928."

BOARD OF DIRECTORS FOR 1967-68

According to our By-Laws the Board of Directors of D.A.D. consists of the officers, the immediate Past President (Dr. Arthur F. Ackerman), the Chairmen of all standing committees and not more than four Directors-at-large, to be elected by the Board. At the meeting of the Board of Directors on November 3, 1967, Hazel A. Lampe (Mrs. Harold W.) and Lester V. Jochem were elected Directors-at-large.

A SALUTE TO LOUISE MILLS!

Louise Mills (Mrs. Ralph H.) who has served as our able and dedicated Recording Secretary since the founding of D.A.D., has resigned from that office. Louise will continue to devote much time and effort as a member of the Genealogy Committee.

We are most grateful for her enthusiastic support and outstanding service. Her devotion has been a major factor in the success of D.A.D. as a family organization.

"de HALVE MAEN" REPRINT AVAILABLE

The Holland Society has given D.A.D. permission to reproduce an article by George Olin Zabriskie which documents records from New Jersey Archives proving early Ackerman ownership of the Von Steuben property and house. This article appeared in the July 1967 issue of the Society's quarterly magazine, "de Halve Maen". In it Mr. Zabriskie "sets the record straight" by correcting the history of the Ackerman-Zabriskie-Von Steuben House as it had been previously documented by him in an article in the January 1963 issue of "de Halve Maen".

Mr. Zabriskie, spokesman for the Zabriskie family and author of many articles on genealogical subjects, worked closely with the D.A.D. Ancestral Homes Committee in gaining acceptance for the accurate history of the old homestead, now approved by the Historic Sites Section.

Copies of this more recent article are available at 75¢. Please send orders to David A. Ackerman, 1 Rich Court, Ho-Ho-Kus, New Jersey 07423.

CAN YOU HELP TWO PROSPECTIVE MEMBERS?

An application is pending from Doris Lucile Kizer of Fullerton, California but some of her ancestry is not known or in our records. She has told us that she was born in Brookings, South Dakota, the daughter of Homer Clifford Ackerman, who was born on March 12, 1890, at Wahoo, Nebraska, and Bertha Ada Plumb, born August 9, 1889 at Belmont, Illinois.

Her grandfather was Albert Giles Ackerman, born September 12, 1860 at Reading, Ohio. His wife was Anna Lungershausen, born August 29, 1867 at Mt. Clements Michigan.

Her great-grandfather was David Sheldon Ackerman, born on January 24, 1819 in New York, whose wife was Mary Ann Weedman, who was born in 1823 in Indiana or Iowa.

This is all that our applicant knows except that she understands that the name "Sheldon" is a family name and used in several generations.

Do we have any D.A.D. member who is related to Doris Lucile Kizer or who knows the family and can give Mrs. Kizer the generations she needs to go back to David Ackerman? If so, please send the data to Mrs. Hazel Lampe, our Membership Genealogist, 28 Rustic Drive, Waldwick, N. J. 07463. It will be very much appreciated.

Here is another one - Edward Shaler Ackerman of Lincoln, Nebraska. Son of Grant Albert Ackerman, born January 12, 1902 at Brainard, Nebraska, and M. Louise Magaw, born at Topeka, Kansas.

Grant Albert was the son of Clyde Edwin Ackerman, born January 20, 1881 at Brainard, Nebraska and Grace Estella Verley, born August 27, 1880 at Brainard, Nebr.

Clyde Edwin Ackerman (1881) was the son of Clyde Edwin Ackerman, born January 1847 in New York State and Josephine White, born January 12, 1852.

Clyde Edwin Ackerman (1847) was possibly the son of Abraham Ackerman - no date known.

Can anyone help with these?

NEW FINDINGS NEAR ACKERMAN-ZABRISKIE-VON STEUBEN HOUSE

Exploratory excavations along the bank of the Hackensack River, in front of the Ackerman-Zabriskie-Von Steuben House were carried on in the fall of 1967 by Roland Robbins, noted archiologist, in an attempt to discover the site of the docks or wharfs which are known to have existed there during the busy years when the Ackermans received shipments of grain and lumber to be processed by their tide water mills, and the Zabriskies later carried on a lively mercantile trade.

When the digging was interrupted by the weather and high tides only a few items had been brought to light. These include soles of shoes and bones of animals, probably pigs - as well as massive pine timbers which might well have been part of the wharf.

Mr. Robbins is well known for his restoration of America's first ironworks at Saugus, Massachusetts. He has also done extensive work at Sterling Furnace, Ringwood and Phillipse Manor. His work near the Ackerman-Zabriskie-Von Steuben House was carried on at the request of the Bergen County Historical Society. We hope that the excavations may continue at some future time.

PICTURES OF BERLICUM ADDED TO ARCHIVES

Cousin Lillian Friou (Mrs. George D.) of Bright Water, N. Y., recently contributed a group of colored photographs of Berlicum, Holland, to the Ackerman Archives.

It was from this small village that our common ancestor set forth for Nieuw Amsterdam in 1662.

A large part of the hamlet was destroyed by the Germans during World War II. The oldest house still standing is about two hundred years old. One of the pictures shows a hipped roof house which is remarkably similar in design to the original house built by David Ackerman "Senior" of Hackensack - at River Edge after he purchased his farm in 1695.

The pictures will be on display at the 1968 Reunion.

OUR NEW RECORDING SECRETARY

As the NEWSLETTER goes to press, President William S. Ackerman announces that Mrs. Donald H. Ladd of Woodcliff Lake has consented to serve as Recording Secretary of D.A.D., to complete the unexpired term of Mrs. Ralph H. Mills. She will be duly elected by the Board of Directors at its next meeting.

Dear Dr. Burleigh -

Thank you for your letter and the Ackerman information. I am enclosing copies of records that I have received on the Ontario Ackermans and Rutans for your files. We have some family records of those who went to the Shelburne area of Nova Scotia but nothing on those that settled in Frederickton, N.B.

So far, I have not been able to identify the Ackerman family that first settled in the Kingston or Bay Quinte area. I would like to have the church marriage records of 1793-1827 that you mentioned and any baptism records that show sponsors, to give a clue to relatives and friends. Would appreciate your suggestions in securing these.

The name Jacob very seldom appears in early Ackerman records but this may be a corruption of Jacobus, meaning James, which was common. The wife's name would solve the problem.

Again my thanks and all best wishes for the New Year.

Sincerely yours, -

W. F. Ackerman

P.S. If I can prove Edward Ackerman's parents as Hendrick (Henry) & Rebecka Halimbeck, it will tie in all these Ackes as descendants of David - 1663. Are there any census records of Ontario prior to 1850?

Dear Dr. Burleigh;

I have been trying for months to track down your address and finally a kind lady sent it to me.

For the past six years I've been trying to complete a family tree history of the Ackerman family. My father was born at Napanee Ontario in 1868 and he left me with many stories of early years in Ontario, as well as old albums and pictures that are real heirlooms.

During a friendly argument with my brother over family ancestors, I decided to start a family tree history.

The way has been long and at times very discouraging. I had written the County Clerk at Fredericksburgh, a Mr. Maurice Young and he said they had no records. I am very surprised at this as I know my ancestors had land in this area. I was able to obtain 1851 Census of Camden East Township, but I need the earlier Census of James or (Jacob). He had a son James who married Elizabeth Hart, also a son Adam, I believe.

I have a copy of a letter written by John Hart to Sir John Colburn in 1831, in which he stated he had fought for the King and had resided in Upper Canada for 39 years, coming from New Jersey, U.S.A. It is beautifully written script. (2 long pages)

John Hart was the father of Elizabeth Hart, wife of James Ackerman II.

II. I've written County Clerks, cemetery officials, etc, etc. with very little results. Many have told me Dr. Burleigh has the information on old Census records. I've written Napanee as the family moved or part of them, moved to Camden East Township. Elizabeth Hart was born in Fredericksburg and was baptised in 1797 by Rev. Langhorn (Anglican). I cannot find James Ackerman's age or where born, or his brother Adam, or where their father came from.

I cannot even locate the cemetery where the elder James & his wife were buried. Yet he owned land in that area. I have information of an early sale held at Adolphustown at which he and Adam bought buggies etc, and James was surety for Adams purchases. So I've presumed Adam was possibly an ^{elder} son of James. I.

My grandfather was Albert James, born in Prince Edward County in 1847. His father was Edward Ackerman. Edwards father was James II and his mother was Elizabeth Hart.

James II father was James or ~~maybe~~ Jacob. I. The census ^{records} would give me the information I need. I feel sure. I had hoped to complete this genealogy in 1969, but have been held up. If pictures could talk I would have my answers.

Now I'm telling the members of my family tree that I will have copies out to celebrate our Manitoba Centennial, but that too is fast fading. The information has all been paid for by me, the Ackerman descendants will simply pay

III. for the printing.

I started this project too late in life, and time I guess is running out for many of us.

I sincerely hope and pray you will send me whatever information you have of the Ackerman families. I will gladly pay you for copy and if you keep old history I will send you a copy of the letter written to the Governor of Upper Canada by my great great grandfather, John Hart, dated Fredericksburgh, Jan, 1831.

I have asked Gods help to let me complete this family history, I now ask your help to help me with the information I need.

Sincerely,

Evelyn Ackerman Robinson

Mr. William Ackerman,
Buffalo, N. Y.

Dear sir:

I have recently received your letter of 4th inst., and I very much resent the statements regarding me which I found there. I care not what you think of me, but I felt very unhappy that you would attempt to influence my old friends.

To begin, let me say that I am not an Ackerman, nor am I related to any person of that name. Neither am I your servant to command. Furthermore, I am not responsible for the disinterest exhibited by the Canadian Ackermans. I have met a few and I find that some of them consider that the world owes them a living, and that the remaining humans residing on this planet are so placed to serve the Ackermans.

And I do NOT have the Ackerman information "bottled-up," as you infer. I have collected data on many Bay of Quinte families, including the Ackermans. I have, at present, more than 800 files covering this area. And, to date, I have never refused anyone the privilege of looking through any of these files. But, being in my seventies, I do not feel inclined to spend the rest of my days compiling data for persons who are too lazy to undertake the project themselves. Nor am I financially able to hire a typist to prepare such work for anyone who might pose a query.

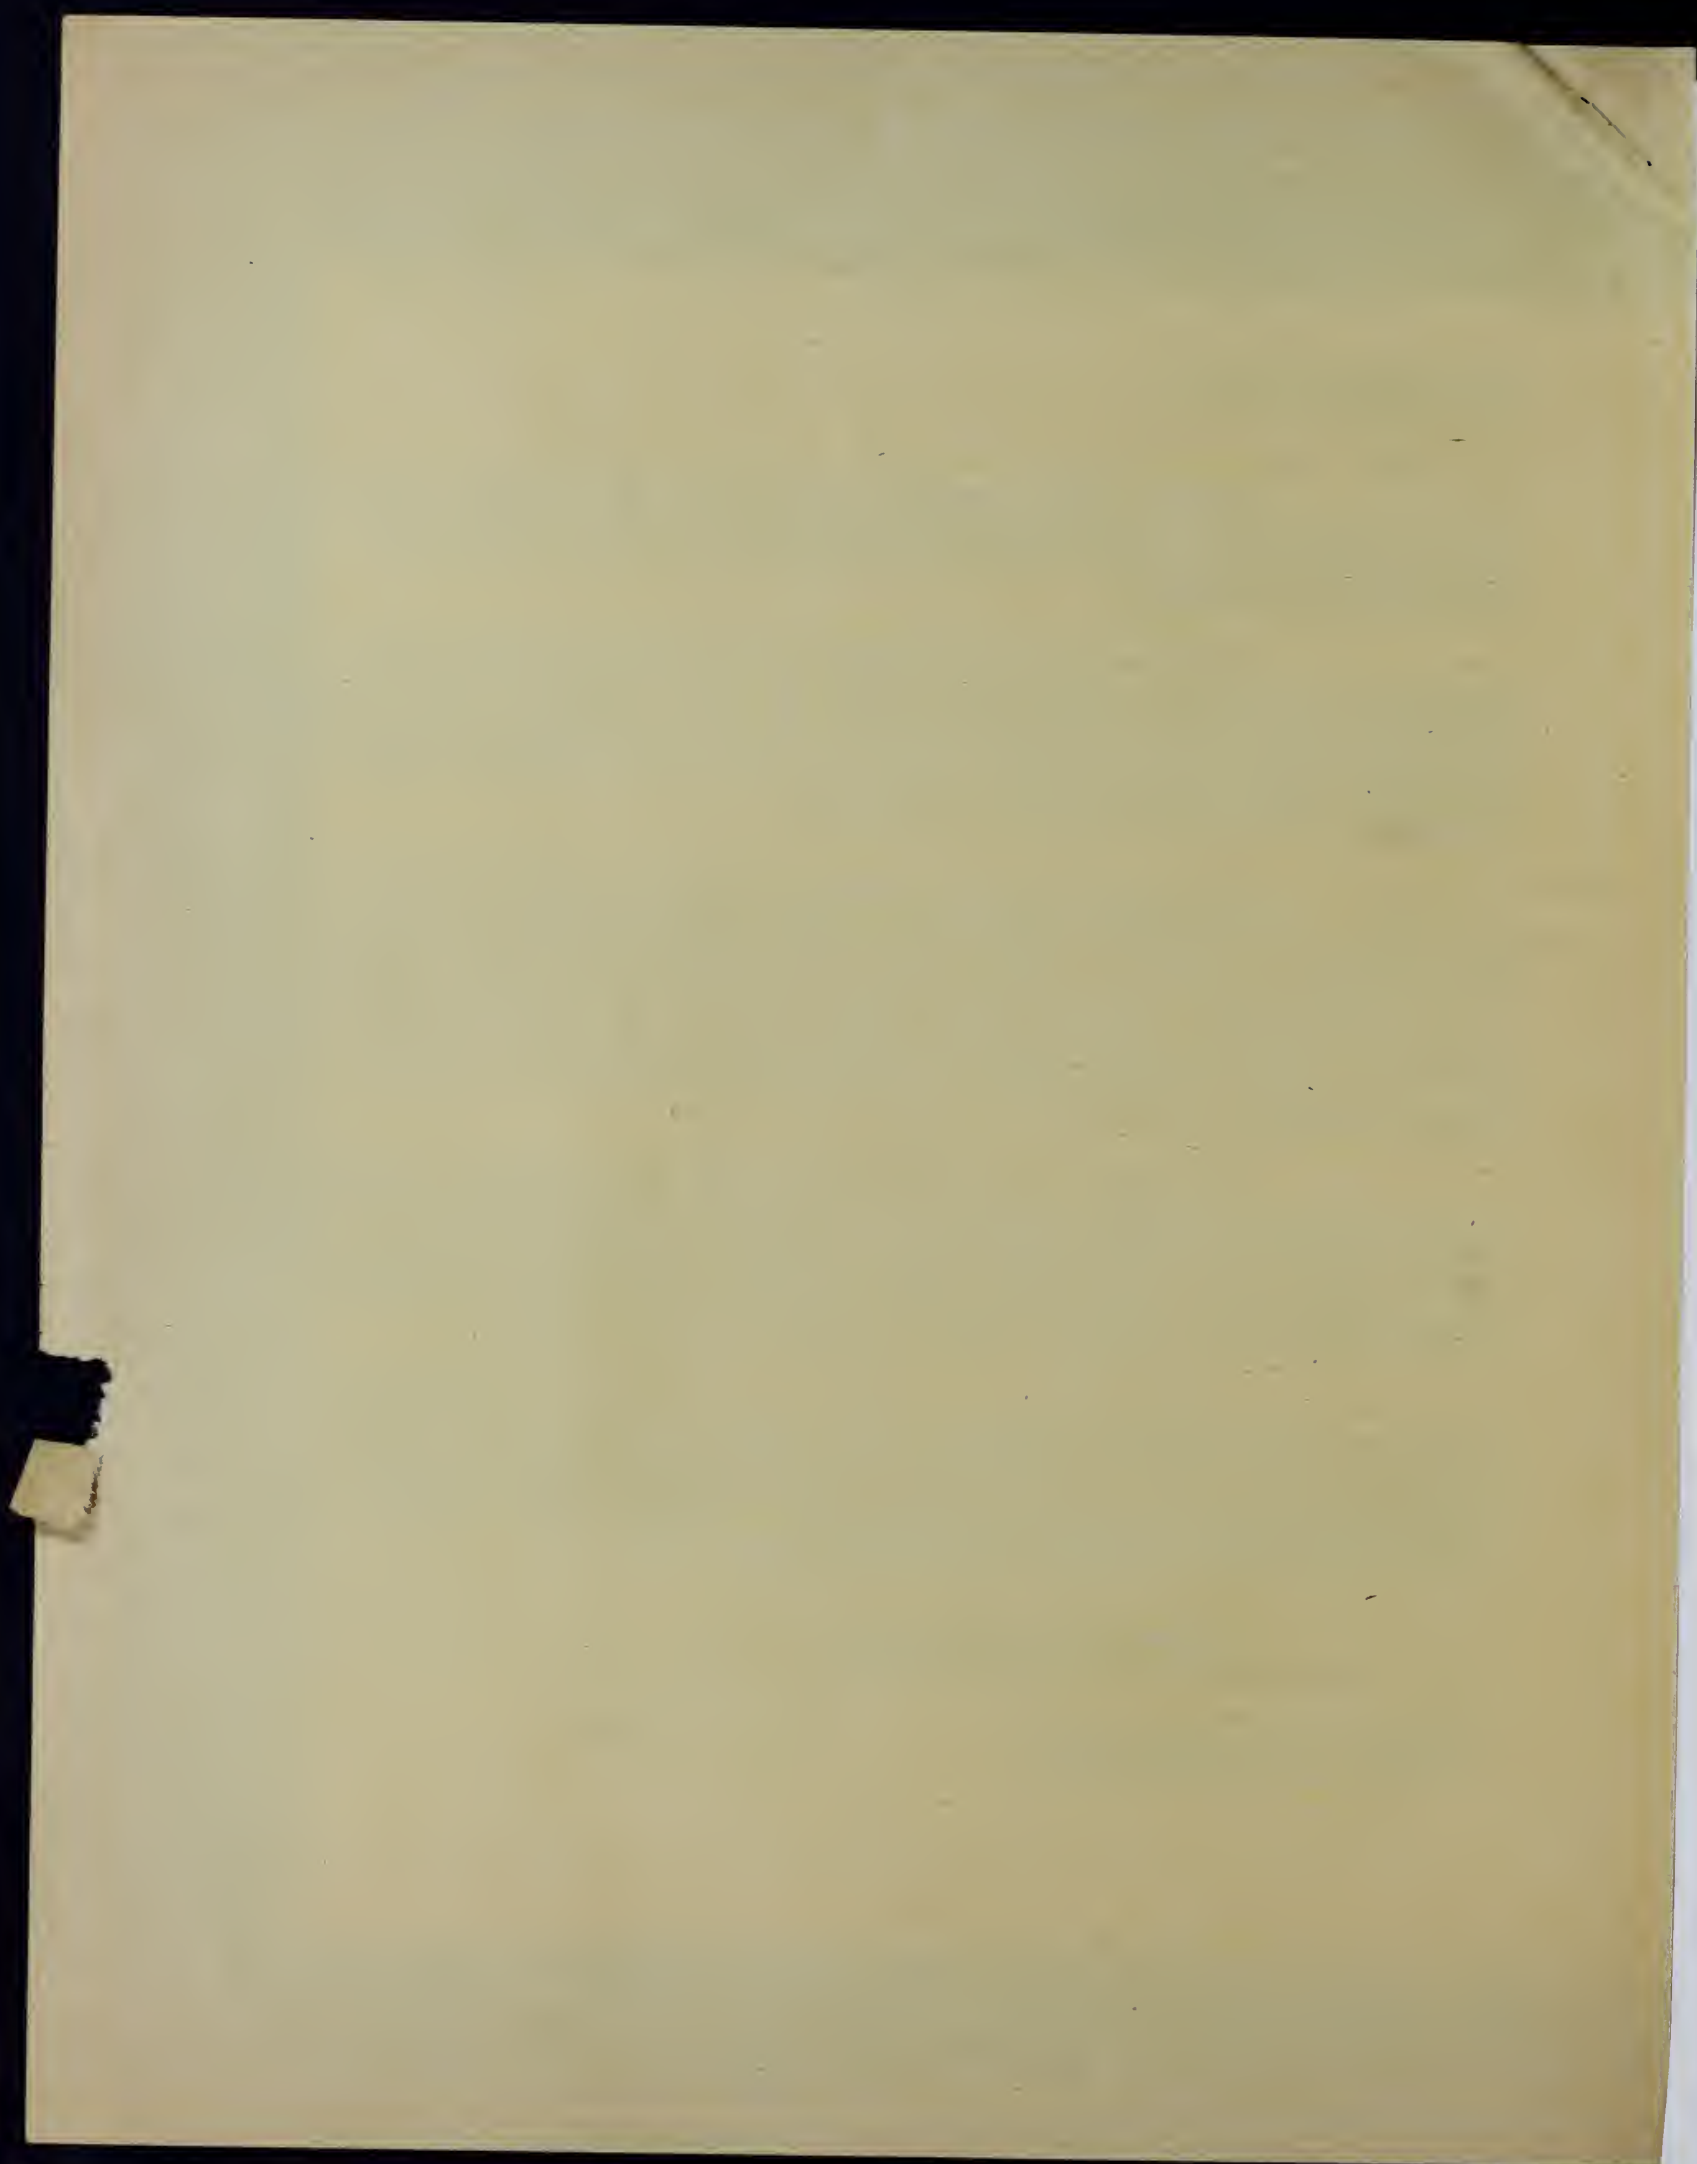

The early census to which you refer is one which I copied a number of years ago from a book printed in Ontario some seventy years ago. This I did for my own satisfaction, just as you, or anyone else may do, if they so desire. I am NOT holding back, and I very much resent the implication. I have never refused any person the privilege of copying anything from my files. I might even allow you that privilege, if you so desired.

Incidentally, I am burning several bits of Ackerman data which I was about to mail to you. So, as a result of your typical Ackerman attitude, please shed a few tears in your beer. And, this goes for any of my old friends to whom you mailed copies of your sarcastic note, namely Crouse, Benson and Maybee, if they also feel that I am holding out on them. They, too, are welcome to come and review any of my files.

Please send copies to Mr. Zabriskie and to Mrs. Mills, so they may also know what I think of your letter.

Copies to K. A. Benson, Gordon
Crouse and Ralph Maybee.

Yours sincerely

4 July 1970
Dear Cousin Evelyn -

I have nothing new to report. The property map of Camden Twp. that Mr. Crouse sent us was very interesting to show the very early Ackmanns, Scotts etc. in that section. I have just about given up on the Canadian branch of the family as the information is "bottled-up" by Dr. H.C. Burleigh M.D. of P.O. Box #9 Bath, Ont. He has a very early census (only copy) (about 1795) of Adolphustown Ont. (St. Edward County) and some other material. I do not know why he holds this back, as like me, he has little time to live and it may get lost or destroyed.

There are two other places that may have some information, (1) The Minister, Grace United Church at Wapanee, Ont and The Minister Trinity United Church also of Wapanee, Ont. These two churches have their old baptismal and marriage registers.

As a "Good-bye" to "cousins" and friends who have tried to help me, I am sending copies to —

Dear Dr. Burleigh -

I understand that you have the papers covering a Crown land grant to James Ackerman in 1801. Would you be willing to sell a Xerox copy of the deed and at what price? We would like to have a copy for our family records and hope that it will help identify this James Ackerman. We suspect that he is one of the Ackerman loyalists that first settled in Fredericton, N.B. in 1783 and later moved to upper Canada.

I would be interested in knowing about any records of Ackerman families in Canada. We would be pleased to assist anyone needing information on the family in the U.S. We have records of nearly ten thousand descendants of DAVID ACKERMAN - 1662 but still have several thousand unidentified Ackermans. Many of these no doubt are descendants of loyalists whose children returned and settled in new areas.

Any assistance that you can give us will be greatly appreciated.

Wishing you and yours a very fine Christmas.

Yours truly,

Dear Mr. Ackerman:

I wish to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 6th of November, 1967, regarding the Second Annual Report of this Department, 1904, which includes the minutes of the commission investigating Loyalist claims. The original minutes are, I believe, in the Library of Congress in Washington. Our published report has been out of print for some time, and I am afraid that it can now only be purchased through a second hand book dealer. On the other hand, many large public libraries in Canada should have copies available for consultation. Possibly your own library in Buffalo would have a copy or could obtain one on inter-library loan.

*They can not
material*

With regard to manuscript records dealing with the Loyalist settlement period, there are voluminous collections in various archives. Many of the Loyalist petitions for land and other compensation together with associated supporting documents (Upper Canada Sundries) are in the Public Archives of Canada in Ottawa. The Ontario Archives has a large collection of records of the early Surveyor-Generals and Commissioners of Crown Lands, containing details relating to land grants to Loyalists and their children. There are also various private collections here pertaining to Loyalists who settled in this Province. Other Provincial Archives, such as that in Nova Scotia, have similar records. Various county registry offices contain registers of land transfers, while certain early churches have vital statistics records.

It is difficult to itemize sources in a matter of this nature, but if you could spend some time in the Public Archives of Canada or here I have no doubt that you could unearth records of relevant interest, particularly if you know specific locations of the individuals in whom you are interested.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. Ackerman:

We are pleased to enclose typescripts of notes on the first legislature of New Brunswick, as well as references to the renting of an inn on Queen Street, Fredericton, owned by Vanderbeck and Ackerman, by the first Governor of New Brunswick while he was awaiting the building of his official residence.

Some notes on the cottage owned by Cornelius Ackerman give an indication of one or two descendants; otherwise we are unable to furnish you with any information on the Ackerman family other than that which we forwarded to you on August 18 of last year.

Yours truly,

"Governor Carleton took up residence in Fredericton in October 1786 (Carleton Letters), and rented the inn on Queen street from its proprietors, Vanderbeck and Ackerman (Vanderbeck letters) for his own occupancy while his Mansion House was being built."

"An article in an old scrap book made by Barry Straton, one of the Fredericton poets and a cousin of Bliss Carman and Charles G. D. Roberts, stated that the "Infant Academy" first held classes in a little cottage on Sunbury street owned by Cornelius Ackerman. The article stated that Cornelius Ackerman, who owned the Golden Ball Inn on Waterloo Row, himself lived at the rear of his property in a cottage which if now standing would face the centre of George Street. Cornelius Ackerman's daughter Mrs. John Stephens lived in this cottage and it was her grand-daughter Mrs. Fluelling (nee Lugin) who gave this information."

THE FIRST LEGISLATURE OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

"The Legislature of New Brunswick met for the first time in St. John, on the 3rd January, 1786. As there were no legislative buildings in St. John, the assembled wisdom of the Province had to resort to an inn, the Mallard House, which seems to have been the principal hotel in St. John at the time. Only thirteen members put in an appearance the first day and no business was done."

Ref: Hannay, James, HISTORY OF NEW BRUNSWICK, Vol. 1, p 172.

"The session of 1787, was the last that was held in the City of Saint John. Governor Carleton had, for reasons best known to himself, decided that St. Anne's Point should be the Capital of the Province, and accordingly a town had been laid out at that place, which was named Fredericton, after the second son of the King. The transfer of the seat of government took place in October, 1786, at which time Governor Carleton took up his residence at Fredericton, the first meeting of the Council at that place being held on the 30th October..."

Ref: ibid. p p 199,200

"As there were no roads to Fredericton, it was impossible to hold the session of the Legislature there during the winter, so that the Assembly did not meet until the 18th July, 1788."

Mr. W. J. Ackerman

Buffalo, N.Y. 14202 -

Dear Mr. Ackerman:

I received the forms you sent me and have filled in as much as I can. A few explanations may help a little. Perhaps my Grandmother Wood's name may be a little confusing to you. Her maiden name was Wood, twice married and didn't change her name.

Now, about the Ackerman's, my father's family, brothers and sister.
George is buried at Wilton, Ontario.
His son, James, lives near Enterprise Ont.
James has three sons, David, Herman and Gerald. Of Bertie, I know very little, except that she died real young in child birth. I believe she was buried at Arden, Ontario.

Ernest Town, where Robert & Esther were born is a very small place near the 401 highway east of Napanee, Ont. I think there is a small Lynx Mills cemetery near there where Robert & Esther were buried.

Of Albert's family, I have had no communication with them since he died. At that time, they lived in St. Catharines, Ont.

Charles died in Mechanicsburg, Pa. and is buried there. No family. For years, they lived in Philadelphia, he was a motorman on a street car.

They went to Mechanicsburg to live, that was Aunt Minnie's home town. I am enclosing a clipping, from the Napanee paper, which was sent to me. It doesn't connect in anywhere for me, it might be of some source of information.

information for you. A number of years ago, I was in Pictou. I contacted a Thomas Ackerman. He showed me a book on settlers, etc. of the Bay of Quinte ^{shore}. It mentioned Ackermans and Aylsworths. My time was limited, so could not get as much information from it as I would have liked.

I will try when time permits, to have a Xerox copy taken from the Family Bible, altho, it is so old and some of the records are hardly legible, would be hard for someone to figure them out, not knowing what they were.

As to disposing of the Bible, I don't think I would consider it, as some of the Family will want it kept in the Family.

My Father moved to this country in 1918, so with the exception of about 6 years, I lived in the vicinity of Cape Vincent. I moved down here last spring after selling my home. It was too far away from my family, nothing to keep me up there. My daughter, Jessie, single, is in Binghamton, Vernon, oldest son, single) is down near Poughkeepsie. Earl, ^{the youngest} married, 2 daughters, is up near Rochester. I am working at present. But plan on quitting the last of March.

It would be nice to meet you sometime. If you have any questions that I might be able to answer, feel free to inquire. I do not have any grave stone inscriptions, there are just the names, dates of births and deaths. Sacher's brother, George, my two brothers and sister are buried in Willton, Ont. Hope to hear from you again.

Sincerely

(Mrs) Clara G. Fisk
